PMDFC work starts on projects related to solid waste management, sewerage

By Our Staff Reporter

LAHORE: Under the Punjab Municipal Development Fund Company (PMDFC), work has commenced on new projects related to solid waste management and sewerage. These projects include the construction of a Material Recovery Facility (MRF) in Faisalabad and Gujranwala at a cost of Rs 500 million.

This initiative will improve solid waste management in these cities, promote recycling, enhance environmental quality, and create employment opportunities. These remarks were shared by PMDFC Managing Director, Syed Zahid Aziz, while presenting the company's performance during the 26th Annual General Meeting. The meeting was chaired by Board Chairman Parvez Iqbal.

During the event, Syed Zahid Aziz informed the general body members from civil society and government institutions that a project to install floating wetlands in Rajanpur for pond cleaning, supported by UNICEF, is in its final stages.

Previously, a pilot project in Sheikhpura, also supported by UNICEF, was successfully completed, where floating wetlands were installed for natural sewage water treatment.

This treated water now meets international standards for agricultural use, significantly reducing environmental pollution.

Furthermore, he highlighted that over PKR 20 billion worth of water supply and sewerage projects are underway under the Punjab Cities Program.

This program, supported by the World Bank, operates across 16 cities in the province and includes municipal infrastructure projects worth approximately PKR 40 billion, such as sewerage, water supply, street lights, parks, and roads, which are nearing completion.

Zahid Aziz also discussed various e-governance initiatives by the company, including the introduction of systems like a comprehensive website, financial management, grievance redressal, and performance management systems, which have noticeably improved MCs' performance.

The meeting presented various agenda items, including minutes from the last Extraordinary General Meeting, Directors' and Audit Reports, and the Auditors' Firm approval, to the general body members for approval. Members from civil society and government institutions actively participated, sharing their suggestions.
